PURPOSE

This report presents priority outcomes of the Tourist Accommodation (TA) Review that was initiated June 21, 2016 and has been conducted consistent with Council direction. The priority outcomes are: 1) a new proposed Council Policy that is intended to provide clarity regarding various zoning and covenant provisions that apply to Whistler’s tourist accommodation bed base (Appendix A); 2) a proposed zoning amendment bylaw that reinforces use, management and operations provisions for specified properties that have Phase 2 type rental pool covenants or are limited to hotel use; 3) a proposed business regulation bylaw that addresses business license requirements for tourist accommodation businesses, establishes prohibitions against rental and marketing activities without a license, and includes provisions that address operating and services requirements for hotel businesses; and 4) a proposed municipal ticket information system amendment bylaw that adds infractions corresponding to the proposed business regulation bylaw. The report also presents supporting materials developed through the TA Review process.

DISCUSSION

Background

At its regular meeting on June 21, 2016, Council passed a resolution directing staff to proceed with the TA Review project as presented in the staff report to Council (Administrative Report to Council #16-080). The purpose of the project is to review and modify/develop Resort Municipality of Whistler (RMOW) policies, regulations and other legal mechanisms governing Whistler's tourist accommodation properties as may be needed to address a number of key issues and factors, including:

- Trends in accommodation booking and operations;
- Visitor trends and expectations for accommodation types, amenities and services;
- Pressures on the supply and utilization of Whistler's tourist accommodation units; and
- Pressures on the supply and utilization of Whistler's residential properties for illegal nightly rentals and paid visitor stays.

The work program has been completed over the past ten months and has involved confidential stakeholders interviews, research into tourism and accommodation trends, creation of a comprehensive database of Whistler's tourist accommodation properties, and an extensive review of existing applicable policies, zoning, land use contracts, and rental pool and development covenants along with related legal advice. Materials that have been developed represent the situation analysis that was conducted; these materials are summarized in Appendices B to D of this report.

The remainder of this report presents the four priority outcomes of the TA Review. The first is the proposed Council Policy: Tourist Accommodation Properties Zoning and Covenant Use Provisions; the second is Zoning Amendment Bylaw (Hotel and Phase 2 Rental Pool Accommodations) No. 2140, 2017; the third is Tourist Accommodation Regulation Bylaw No. 2142, 2017; and the fourth is Municipal Ticket Information System Amendment Bylaw No. 2152, 2017.

Proposed Council Policy

The proposed Council Policy: Tourist Accommodation Properties Zoning and Covenant Use Provisions is presented in Appendix A. The proposed policy provides guidance as to how the RMOW will apply zoning and covenant provisions to specific tourist accommodation properties, within four general categories:

1. Hotel and Phase 2 Rental Pool Accommodations;
2. Tourist Accommodation Dwellings with Phase 1 Rental Pool;
3. Tourist Accommodation Dwellings with No Rental Pool; and
4. Residential Use Only Accommodations.

The properties included within each category are specified within the policy.

In general, the policies for each category are based on high level policy directions for each, as follows.

Hotel and Phase 2 Rental Pool Accommodations

The properties within this category are generally hotel, inn or lodge developments that have hotel use or Phase 2 covenants registered on title and are intended to be used to maximize the number of persons able to visit and stay in Whistler. These accommodations are recognized as the core tourist accommodation base.

The proposed applicable policies seek to mirror and reinforce existing zoning and covenant provisions. The policies maintain the key existing rental pool requirements and reinforce the requirement for a single, integrated rental pool for all units within a property. Provisions requiring municipal approval of a particular rental pool or rental agreement have not been included.

The proposed policies recommend maintaining the existing covenanted owner use provisions. Units are to be made available for rental to members of the public at all times, except for limited owner use as provided for within the covenants registered on the title of each property. These provisions typically permit booked owner use of up to 56 days per calendar year (no more than 28 days in the winter season (November 15th to April 16th) and no more than 28 days in the summer season (April 16th to November 15th)). They also prioritize visitor use over additional booked owner use. The covenanted owner use provisions are maintained through the exceptions listed in the proposed zoning amendment bylaw.

Existing zoning general regulations that establish requirements for auxiliary uses for hotel, inn, lodge and tourist accommodation properties (i.e., lobby, assembly, restaurant, entertainment and retail) would be maintained and reinforced with provisions that support visitor experience and guest service through integrated services that commonly exist for these properties (i.e., common lobby and front desk facilities with 24 hour service, uniform key entry system, central telephone system, and housekeeping and building maintenance services).

For these properties, a single business license would generally be required for the single, integrated rental pool for all accommodation units within the property. Business licenses would not be issued for individual units, and individual units would not be permitted to be booked or rented outside of the single, integrated rental pool.

Tourist Accommodation Dwellings with Phase 1 Rental Pool

The properties within this category represent a range of dwelling types including condos, townhomes and chalets, which have a Phase 1 type rental pool covenant registered on title and are intended to maximize occupancy for use by owners and visitors. These properties have zoning with specified uses that permit temporary lodging or temporary accommodation and include a wide range of provisions for owner use and rental pool requirements which generally permit greater owner use than the Hotel and Phase 2 Rental Pool Accommodations. When not in owner use, the covenants generally require that the accommodation units be made available to the general public through a rental pool. These requirements support the 'warm bed' objectives of the resort community.

For these properties, the proposed policy recommends a status quo approach that maintains existing zoning and covenanted owner use provisions and rental booking requirements for each property. The policy does not recommend ‘standardizing’ a uniform set of provisions and requirements across all properties through zoning or business regulation amendments.

With respect to rental pool requirements, the policy supports multiple rental booking and unit management arrangements within a property, for properties where the covenant does not specify a single, integrated rental pool. Individual unit owners may determine booking and management arrangements for their unit on an individual basis, subject to strata bylaws and owner agreements.

Effective approaches to support visitor experience and guest services for these properties would be determined at the strata level for each property. Coordinated provision of visitor services through coordinated rental reservation platforms, lobby and check-in services, uniform key systems, and emergency services would be encouraged and effective models communicated through resort partners and stakeholders.

Individual unit owners engaged in rentals of their individual unit outside of a common rental pool would require a business license. If the unit is rented through a common rental pool or by an independent property management company, then this activity may be covered under the business license of that company, and an individual license would not be required.

Tourist Accommodation Dwellings with No Rental Pool

The properties within this category also represent a range of dwelling types including condos, townhomes and chalets, as well as bed and breakfasts, pensions, hostels, campgrounds and recreational vehicle parks; they have zoning with specified uses that permit temporary lodging or temporary accommodation, which permit short-term rentals to visitors and paying guests, but are not subject to any rental pool requirements. A majority of the dwellings have zoning that permits both residential use and tourist accommodation use when the dwelling is not being used for residential purposes. The objective for properties in this category is to maximize both residential and visitor use, including supporting Whistler’s housing needs. Rental activities and arrangements are at the discretion of the unit owners, subject to any strata bylaws. Rentals to visitors and paying guests would be subject to obtaining a business license, either by the unit owner if they are conducting the rental activities, or by a property management company if this is the arrangement.

Residential Use Only Accommodations

The proposed policy also addresses the related issue of rentals to paying guests in residential properties that are not zoned for this use. Any rentals that do not meet the definition of residential use, which pertains to these properties, is illegal and may be enforced against. Residential is defined to be a fixed place of living, where there is an ongoing residential use and intent to return, and excludes any temporary accommodation defined as less than four consecutive weeks. The policy maintains a strong position against visitor rentals in residential zoned areas of the resort community to maintain the residential character of Whistler’s neighbourhoods, to maximize the availability of residential accommodations for Whistler’s housing needs, and to direct visitor rentals to the large number of properties within the RMOW that are zoned for this purpose.

The RMOW has actively been pursuing enforcement against illegal rentals of residential properties including working with rental booking platforms (AirBnB) and obtaining injunctions against property owners through court proceedings. The policy recommends continued enforcement and development of further tools to support enforcement and compliance including amendments to business license regulations and the municipal ticket information system bylaw to prohibit marketing of illegal rentals and adopting available adjudication processes. For reference, the zones and land use contract areas that permit some form of rentals to paying guests, including temporary lodging or temporary accommodation, are listed in Appendix D.

Proposed Zoning Amendment Bylaw

The proposed Zoning Amendment Bylaw (Hotel and Phase 2 Rental Pool Accommodations) No. 2140, 2017 is a key priority of the Council Policy for the properties within the Hotel and Phase 2 Rental Pool Accommodations category. The bylaw supports the rental pool requirements and ensuring availability of units under a single professional rental pool manager providing integrated booking, reception, cleaning, laundry, and other services. A significant concern is individual unit owners seeking to operate outside of the common rental pool and management arrangement for a strata property. The municipality takes the position that for these properties, which are zoned for and have been developed and operate as hotels, inns and lodges, it is the intention of the covenants and existing zoning that every accommodation unit on the property be placed or listed in a single, integrated rental pool through which the units will be made available for rental to the public. This provides for the orderly and assured management of reservations and use of units by the public and unit owners.

The proposed bylaw maintains the existing covenanted owner use provisions. In particular, it provides for unit owner accommodation use of a unit that complies with the requirements of a Hotel and Phase 2 rental pool arrangement and any applicable covenant granted to the R MOW.

Additionally, the bylaw provides for existing time share arrangements within these properties. Any such documented time share arrangements in place prior to first reading of the proposed bylaw would continue to be permitted under the proposed bylaw.

The proposed bylaw also addresses the provision of other commonly existing services that are considered to be essential to visitor experience and guest services including 24 hour lobby and front desk services, uniform key entry system, housekeeping and building maintenance services and a central telephone system. These are consistent with the proposed Council Policy as described above.

The proposed bylaw adds these provisions to existing General Regulations under Part 5, Section 18 of the municipality's Zoning and Parking Bylaw No. 303, 2015. The existing regulations, which pertain to hotel, inn, lodge and tourist accommodation uses, specify minimum gross floor area requirements for lobby, restaurant, assembly, entertainment and retail auxiliary uses that are to be made available for public use within each of these accommodation types. The added provisions will apply uniformly to all of the properties and accommodation units that are listed in Table 5B included in the proposed bylaw amendment.

The bylaw has been developed with legal counsel. Information related to the current zoning, applicable development and rental pool covenants, development history and current operations for the subject properties has also been considered. The bylaw language pertaining to rental arrangements and required services has also been developed having regard to zoning bylaws in other resort communities that address hotel-type operations and visitor experience and guest service objectives.

Proposed Business Regulation Bylaw

The proposed Tourist Accommodation Regulation Bylaw No. 2142, 2017 addresses: business license requirements for tourist accommodation business activities; prohibitions against such activities without a license, including rental and marketing activities; and provisions that pertain to various types of tourist accommodation businesses including hotel businesses, bed and breakfasts and vacation rental businesses.

Consistent with existing business licensing, a business license would be required for properties conducting tourist accommodation businesses, including vacation rentals and hotels; also rental activities for an accommodation unit that are conducted by a property management or rental management company may be conducted under the license of that company and a separate license is not required.

Tourist accommodation business activities conducted independently by a unit owner as a vacation rental business would require a business license. This requirement is covered by the existing business regulation bylaw, but is not explicitly stated and has not been the usual practice.

For properties that are defined in the bylaw to be a hotel, all units are to be operated under a single hotel business license. Individual unit owners will not be eligible to obtain a business license to conduct a tourist accommodation business outside of the single hotel business license. For strata titled properties that are subject to the Strata Property Act, a 3/4 resolution of the strata authorizing the application is required. Hotel businesses are also required to have the specified front desk, housekeeping and building maintenance services.

The proposed bylaw also defines existing time share premises, and where such premises are located within a hotel, these premises may have a separate hotel business license, but are also required to provide the specified front desk, housekeeping and building maintenance services.

Proposed Municipal Ticket Information System Amendment Bylaw

The proposed Municipal Ticket Information System Amendment Bylaw No. 2152, 2017 adds infractions that correspond to the provisions in the proposed Tourist Accommodation Regulation Bylaw No. 2142, 2017.

OTHER POLICY CONSIDERATIONS

The proposed Council Policy and zoning amendment bylaw are consistent with the municipality's historic objectives for creating and maintaining a 'warm bed' base or secure supply of tourist accommodation for visitors to Whistler, helping to achieve and sustain the resort community's year-round destination tourism economy. The policies are also consistent with the policies of the current Official Community Plan and the updated Official Community Plan that stands at third reading.

BUDGET CONSIDERATIONS

There are no direct budget implications associated with the proposed policies. The proposed zoning amendment bylaw is provided for within the Planning Department's operating budget. Implementation of business license requirements for individual unit owner marketing and rental activities would be expected to result in new business license fees; these fees are established on a cost recovery basis for related administration and processing requirements. The Municipal Ticket

Information System Amendment Bylaw No. 2152, 2017 supports the tourist accommodation business regulations. Budget considerations associated with implementation of specific enforcement actions that may entail additional resource requirements would be evaluated in advance of implementation.

COMMUNITY ENGAGEMENT AND CONSULTATION SUMMARY

The proposed Council Policy and zoning amendment bylaw have been informed by a comprehensive situation analysis that was conducted. Key components of this analysis included meetings with senior staff from Whistler's resort partners – Tourism Whistler, Whistler Chamber of Commerce, and Whistler Blackcomb – as well as extensive confidential interviews conducted with individuals representing various stakeholder groups and perspectives. Issues of concern identified informally by individual parties leading up to and during the course of the TA Review have also been taken into consideration. Staff also met with representatives from AirBnB and consulted with other resort communities. Information related to illegal tourist accommodation rentals in residentially zoned neighbourhoods has also been shared and discussed with the Mayor's Task Force on Resident Housing, with support for the proposed related policies. Consultation with legal counsel has been on-going.

The proposed zoning amendment bylaw is subject to statutory public hearing requirements, which will provide members of the public the opportunity to share their views on the proposed bylaw. This report recommends that Council authorize scheduling of this public hearing consistent with statutory requirements. Notice of the public hearing will be conducted in accordance with the Local Government Act.

The proposed business regulation bylaw is also subject to the requirement pursuant to s. 59(2) and (3) of the Community Charter to give notice of the RMOW's intention to adopt the bylaw, and to provide a reasonable opportunity for persons who consider themselves affected to be heard by Council. Generally, this opportunity to be heard may be through written or oral submissions, and it is proposed that Council accept both written and oral submissions, to be coordinated with the public hearing process for the zoning amendment.

SUMMARY

This report presents a summary of key findings and the priority outcomes for the TA Review project: 1) proposed Council Policy: Tourist Accommodation Properties Zoning and Covenant Use Provisions; 2) proposed Zoning Amendment Bylaw (Hotel and Phase 2 Rental Pool Accommodations) No. 2140, 2017; 3) Tourist Accommodation Regulation Bylaw No. 2142, 2017; and 4) Municipal Ticket Information System Amendment Bylaw No. 2152, 2017. This report recommends that Council endorse the proposed Council Policy, consider giving first and second readings to the proposed zoning amendment bylaw, consider giving first, second and third readings to the proposed business regulation bylaw and municipal ticket information system amendment bylaw, and authorize staff to schedule a public hearing for the proposed zoning amendment bylaw.

THE RESORT MUNICIPALITY OF WHISTLER COUNCIL POLICY

POLICY NUMBER:	DATE OF RESOLUTION:
NAME: Tourist Accommodation Properties Zoning and Covenant Use Provisions

1.0 SCOPE OF POLICY

This policy applies to all properties within the municipality that are zoned or are regulated by a land use contract to allow tourist accommodation or temporary lodging as a permitted use. The policy also addresses illegal rentals of residential accommodations that are not permitted tourist accommodation or temporary lodging.

2.0 PURPOSE

In broad terms, this policy is intended to clarify the Resort Municipality of Whistler's (RMOW's) position on provisions included in tourist accommodation covenants, and to provide direction on regulations that will be used to either maintain, clarify and/or reinforce those provisions.

With respect to Phase 1 covenanted properties, the policies are intended to clarify the covenant provisions aimed at achieving the guiding principles below. For Phase 2 covenanted properties, the policies herein are intended to reinforce the covenant provisions aimed at achieving the guiding principles.

3.0 BACKGROUND

3.1 Historic 'Warm Bed Policy' and Covenant Approach

Whistler's early plans created the foundation for the success of Whistler's tourism and visitor accommodation offerings – helping to ensure: an adequate supply; a mix of types in appropriate locations; and their active use (i.e., warm beds). Whistler's early Official Community Plans (OCPs) articulated the 'warm bed policy' for public beds (i.e., tourist accommodation) by stating the intent to "ensure that all tourism commercial accommodation will be maintained in the form of public beds through the registration and enforcement of restrictive covenants under the Land Titles Act...".

The early OCPs refer to the property covenants on title as the mechanism for achieving warm beds; called rental pool covenants, they help to ensure accommodations are available for visitor use by limiting owner use. The 'warm bed policy,' also supported by zoning restrictions, has helped to achieve a secure supply of overnight accommodation available to Whistler's visitors in proximity to its amenities.

Whistler's visitor accommodation mix and inventory, established over 30 to 40 years ago, now includes a diverse offering of commercial accommodations such as hotels, inns and lodges, as well as accommodations that may be used for either residential use or visitor use. This mix is important to providing the diversity of offerings to meet visitor needs, and hotels (including Phase 2 properties), which have the most restrictive rental pool covenants to ensure availability for visitor use, are critical to Whistler's 'warm bed policy' and to a number of visitor markets such as the conference, Asian, and group markets.

The RMOW now has a variety of regulations that currently guide the way the many different accommodation types can be used and rented, and the supply, mix and availability of the inventory has generally been working well to meet diverse visitor needs and to support Whistler's tourism economy.

In recent years, Whistler's commercial accommodation sector has been experiencing stronger economic performance than before: higher occupancy rates, higher average daily room rates (ADR), and positive Returns on Investment (ROI) for unit owners.

- Paid occupancy continues to increase for both summer and winter seasons, and the number of days over 85% occupancy is increasing. At 60-65% occupancy, properties are making a good ROI and are able to reinvest/renovate.
- Visitor satisfaction is high for all accommodation types.
- Spending in the visitor accommodation sector has grown (Economic Partnership Initiative 2016 report).

3.2 Tourist Accommodation Review Project

While Whistler's accommodation inventory is working well to support visitor demand and the resort economy, trends in tourism and accommodation booking have evolved over the past five years with the proliferation of online booking platforms and their rapid growth in accommodation listings and guest bookings. The RMOW Tourism Accommodation (TA) Review project, undertaken in 2016-17, was initiated to address these evolving market trends, and a number of other drivers, including:

- Trends in accommodation booking and operations.
- Visitor trends and expectations for accommodation types, amenities and services.
- Pressures on the supply and utilization of Whistler's tourist accommodation units.
- Pressures on the supply and utilization of Whistler's residential properties for illegal nightly rentals and paid visitor stays.

The project purpose was to review and modify existing and/or develop new RMOW policies, regulations and other legal mechanisms governing Whistler's tourist accommodation properties to better meet the changing needs of Whistler's visitors and the resort community.

The project included a detailed situation analysis prior to policy and regulation review and revisions/development. The situation analysis included these key elements: a scan of the trends affecting Whistler's tourist accommodation sector; a review of Whistler's tourist accommodation policies and regulations; the development of a detailed inventory of Whistler's tourist accommodation properties; and interviews with key resort community partner organizations (Tourism Whistler, Whistler Chamber of Commerce, and Whistler Blackcomb) and tourist accommodation sector stakeholders to better understand the situation from first-hand experience.

3.3 Tourist Accommodation Inventory Overview

The TA Review project inventory process resulted in a database of properties where the zoning or land use contract permitted some form of tourist accommodation. The database includes attributes for each property, such as BC Assessment information (e.g., assessment class and assessed value), zoning, property type (strata or non-strata) and the registration numbers of rental pool covenants. In total the database comprises approximately 7,700 records each representing a titled property.

Whistler's tourism accommodation inventory, according to the three accommodation categories outlined in this policy and described below, includes: approximately 4,024 units and 31 properties within the "Hotel and Phase 2 Rental Pool Accommodations" category (hotels and Phase 2 properties); approximately 3,132 units and 55 properties within the "Tourist Accommodation Dwellings With Phase 1 Rental Pool" category (properties with Phase 1 rental pool covenants); and approximately 2,263 units and 104 properties within the "Tourist Accommodation Dwellings With No Rental Pool" category (properties without rental pool covenants).

Accommodation Categories	Properties	Accommodation Units
Hotel and Phase 2 Rental Pool Accommodations	31	4,024
Tourist Accommodation Dwellings With Phase 1 Rental Pool	55	3,132
Tourist Accommodation Dwellings With No Rental Pool	104	2,263
Total	190	9,419

4.0 GUIDING PRINCIPLES

The principles listed below guided the TA Review project and are the foundation of this Council Policy. They were drawn from existing RMOW policies, regulations and plans.

- Protect the visitor accommodation bed base.
- Maintain 'warm beds'.
- Support the visitor experience and service quality levels.
- Provide a range of accommodation types and arrangements to meet diverse visitor demographics and needs.
- Support efficient property management, operations, maintenance and reinvestment in accommodation offering.
- Provide clarity and certainty regarding tourist accommodation use requirements and rental arrangements.
- Remove RMOW from involvement in tourist accommodation property management issues.
- Prohibit nightly rentals in residential areas (i.e., properties not zoned for temporary lodging or temporary accommodation).

5.0 POLICIES

5.1 General Policies

1. Recognize, maintain and clarify distinctions within the tourist accommodation inventory for accommodation use requirements, based on specified policy objectives, guiding principles, zoning, rental pool and development covenants, and development approvals.
2. Clarify the municipality's position on various rental pool covenant provisions that are registered in favour of the municipality:
 - a) Secure provisions that are essential to maximizing the availability and use of Whistler's core accommodation base for visitor use.
 - b) Support existing owner use provisions.
 - c) Do not exercise provisions requiring municipal approval of a particular rental pool or rental agreement.
3. Where possible, implement "housekeeping" amendments to clarify and simplify existing zoning regulations.
4. Recognize and specify policies for four general categories of accommodations and identify specific properties within each, as follows:
 - a) Hotel and Phase 2 Rental Pool Accommodations category is comprised of properties listed in Schedule "1" attached, which exhibit one or more of the following characteristics:
 - i. The zoned or land use contract permitted use is hotel, inn, lodge or tourist accommodation;
 - ii. A "Phase 2" rental pool covenant is registered on title in favour of the Resort Municipality of Whistler;
 - iii. A development covenant specifying hotel use is registered on title in favour of the Resort Municipality of Whistler; and/or
 - iv. The property was developed as a hotel, inn, lodge or tourist accommodation as per the approved Development Permit.
 - b) Tourist Accommodation Dwellings With Phase 1 Rental Pool category is comprised of properties listed in Schedule "2" attached, for which the zoning or land use contract for the property permits "temporary lodging" or "temporary accommodation" and a "Phase 1" rental pool covenant is registered on title in favour of the Resort Municipality of Whistler.
 - c) Tourist Accommodation Dwellings With No Rental Pool category is comprised of properties listed in Schedule "3" attached, for which the zoning or land use contract for the property permits "temporary lodging" or "temporary accommodation" and the property is not included in either a) or b) above.
 - d) Residential Use Only Accommodations category is comprised of all properties for which the zoning permits a residential building or dwelling and does not permit any form of "temporary lodging" or "temporary accommodation".

5.2 Hotel and Phase 2 Rental Pool Accommodations

1. Recognize properties in this category as the core accommodation base for visitor use; maximize the number of persons able to visit and stay in these accommodations.
2. Secure essential use, management and operating aspects of this category by utilizing zoning and business regulations to support covenant provisions.
3. Achieve an equitable approach and consistency in applicable provisions across all properties in this category. Seek to mirror existing provisions and typical operations.
4. Amend and apply zoning and business regulations as follows:
 - a) Secure the requirement for all accommodation units within these properties to be managed and operated as a single, integrated entity.
 - b) Require all owner use and visitor use to be booked through a single, integrated rental pool.
 - c) Ensure all units are made available for rental to the public at all times except when booked for permitted owner use.
 - d) Maintain existing covenanted owner use provisions, which typically permit booked owner use of up to 56 days per calendar year (no more than 28 days in the winter season (November 15th to April 16th) and no more than 28 days in the summer season (April 16th to November 15th)) and prioritize visitor use over additional booked owner use.
 - e) Provide for existing time share arrangements that have been approved by the RMOW for select accommodation units.
 - f) Maintain existing zoning requirements under general regulations for auxiliary lobby, restaurant, assembly, entertainment and retail uses.
 - g) Secure essential facilities and services including: common lobby and front desk facilities with 24 hour service; uniform key entry system; central telephone system; housekeeping service; and building and facility maintenance.
 - h) Require a single business license for all accommodation units under the single management agreement. Do not issue or permit licensing for units on an individual basis. Require every applicant for a hotel business license for a hotel that is subject to the Strata Property Act to provide a resolution passed by a $\frac{3}{4}$ vote under the Strata Property Act authorizing the applicant to operate the hotel business.
 - i) Strictly enforce against any residential use of these properties.
 - j) Support zoning and business regulations through municipal ticketing and available adjudication processes.

5.3 Tourist Accommodation Dwellings With Phase 1 Rental Pool

1. Seek to maximize occupancy of these accommodations by owners and visitors.
2. Maintain existing covenanted owner use provisions and rental booking requirements for each property. Do not seek to establish uniform provisions across all properties through zoning or business regulations.

3. Allow for multiple rental booking and unit management arrangements for properties where the covenant does not specify a single rental pool; individual unit owners may determine booking and management arrangements for their unit on an individual basis, subject to strata bylaws and owner agreements.
4. Encourage coordinated provision of visitor services through coordinated rental reservation platforms, lobby and check-in services, uniform key systems, and emergency services. Operating models for each property are determined at the strata level.
5. Work with resort partners and stakeholders to help communicate and advance effective property management and visitor services models.
6. Require individual accommodation unit owners to obtain a business license for any tourist accommodation rental and marketing activities associated with their unit. If the activity is being conducted by an independent property management company, then this activity may be covered under the business license of that company, and an individual license is not required.
7. Monitor utilization of the units in this category on an on-going basis, to maximize use and maintain covenant warm bed objectives.

5.4 Tourist Accommodation Dwellings With No Rental Pool

1. Maintain existing zoning and permitted uses for these properties.
2. Recognize and help promote the attractiveness of unit types in this category for extended stays, and larger group and family business.
3. Encourage full utilization of these units for residential use and visitor rentals as zoning permits.
4. Require individual accommodation unit owners to obtain a business license for any tourist accommodation rental and marketing activities associated with their unit. If the activity is being conducted by an independent property management company, then this activity may be covered under the business license of that company, and an individual license is not required.

5.5 Residential Use Only Accommodations

1. Maintain and reinforce existing zoning restrictions and business regulations to prohibit any tourist accommodation or temporary lodging use of properties in this category. Limit to residential use only consistent with existing residential use definitions.
2. Seek to maximize utilization of residential properties to support employee housing needs.
3. Implement regulatory changes that will facilitate active enforcement against prohibited visitor rentals.
4. Work with property management companies and rental booking platforms and service providers to support the municipality's zoning and business regulations.
5. Enforce against illegal rentals using available tools and legislative powers. Amend business regulations to prohibit marketing of illegal rentals and adopt available adjudication processes.

6. Recognize and maintain existing bed and breakfast and pension zoned properties within residential areas. Do not support additional bed and breakfast and pension properties. Amend zoning for bed and breakfasts to have an onsite manager or operator.

INTRODUCTION

This document provides a high level summary of some of the key trends affecting Whistler's tourist accommodation sector. The information gathered is not comprehensive or exhaustive - it presents relevant external (i.e., global, national, provincial, regional) and local (Whistler) trends from existing research that is readily available online. It contains commentary and conclusions from other research; no primary research was conducted as part of this work.

Alternative accommodations [compared to traditional hotels] have been revolutionizing the travel industry over the past decade. First, HomeAway became the world's leading online vacation rental listing, upending traditional vacation rental management companies. Then, Airbnb disrupted HomeAway's marketplace by offering cheap stays to thrifty travelers – with online transactions built into its model. (Source: Share This! GLOBAL TRENDS

This section presents relevant trends occurring in the tourism market that may be contributing to some of the changes occurring in the tourist accommodation (TA) sector.

DEMOGRAPHIC TRENDS

MULTIGENERATIONAL TRAVEL

- Families are vacationing together and they want to stay together. Hotels must be able to accommodate full families, which translates to offering villas and suites with three or four bedrooms; or larger and adjoining rooms with extra beds and space for people to gather. "There is a much greater market for standalones, three- or four-bedroom units," said Cate Thero, executive vice president of sales and marketing for Replay Resorts. In the past, the large villas were sold as residences, not offered as rentals. "That is a different kind of product in many markets," she said. (Source: ULI's recent "Hotel and Resort Development: Next Wave of Innovation" conference in La Costa, California)

BOOMER TRENDS

- Ten thousand Boomers turn 65 every single day in the US alone. 65+ is the fastest-growing demographic in the U.S. and the wealthiest demographic in the developed world.
- Vacation properties owned by Retirees are used for a longer period of time – two months or more – compared to all vacation homeowners, who only use their property for two to four weeks.
- Room/home sharing accommodation is only preferred by 3% of US Boomers. While over half prefer full full-service hotels/resorts, 20 and 30 percent also indicated a preference for B&Bs/small inns, homes/villas, timeshare condos/homes and private apartments/condos.
- Airbnb remains low on the list of accommodation preferences for Retirees, however, the company recently announced that more than 1 million of its users are now over 60, and that 10 percent of its hosts are also over the age of 60.

- After free internet access, privacy is the most desirable hotel amenity for the 65+ group of travellers. Vacation properties, especially single-family home accommodations, can offer guests more privacy in the absence of staff, B&B hosts, and other guests. 19% want suites with kitchenettes.
- However, the Resonance Consultancy research on Boomers shows that while seven percent said they'd convert an investment property into a principal residence, only one percent did. It would appear that ambitions changed as retirement approached.

MILLENNIALS

- Millennials represent nearly a quarter of the entire U.S. population and will soon surpass the ageing Baby Boomers in size. (Resonance Consulting, 2015 Portrait of the US Millennial Traveler)
- The number of millennial travellers to Canada grew from about 1.8 million in 2008 to nearly 2.1 million in 2012. Millennials accounted for about 13% of total international arrivals to Canada in 2012. UNWTO estimates that millennials account for about 20% of global travellers. What's more, millennials are one of the fastest-growing travel segments globally. There is an opportunity for Canada to increase its share of the millennial travel market in years to come. (Source: ITS Characteristics, Statistics Canada and UNWTO)
- Why they matter: They are time-rich but cost-conscious: They travel more often and spend more time in their chosen destination, though they are more conscious of price when selecting accommodation and transportation services. Further, they add vibrancy and create a 'buzz' for destinations through their tendency to post everything about their experience online. (Source: Canada Millennial Domestic Travel Summary Report, 2015)
- Canada lacks the same network of affordable accommodation and transportation options available in other destinations that are attractive to millennial travellers, but does have millennial product offerings and a strong tourism industry. (Source: Canada Millennial Domestic Travel Summary Report, 2015)

SINGLE TRAVELLERS

- Visitor travelling alone (single travellers) are looking for more affordable accommodation offerings.
- These 'single travellers' represented 9% of Whistler's summer visitors in 2016, and 10% of winter visitors (2015-16 data).

LUXURY TRAVELLERS

- There is an increase in the demand for larger accommodation in the luxury market.

Rosewood Hotel and Resorts (Interview Excerpt)

Resonance Consulting: More and more wealthy travelers are vacationing in groups with friends. Is this a consideration in the design of your new hotels (e.g. more suites) or are there examples of programming or amenities you've created that foster "togetherness" or multi-generational experiences?

Radha Arora, President, Rosewood Hotels and Resorts: We're seeing an increasingly robust demand for suite and villa accommodations over the last few years. Guests are traveling with their families or large groups of friends, and they want to stay somewhere where they can all be together under one roof. Rosewood has responded to this demand by growing our percentage of larger suites, villas, and residences. Rosewood San Miguel de Allende, for example, features a collection of seven residences which were built for hotels guests only, and Rosewood Castiglion del Bosco boasts 10 stunning villas which are refurbished 17th and 18th century farmhouses. Las Ventanas al Paraiso, A Rosewood Resort in Cabo, also recently built and opened 12 stunning new Signature Villas. And Rosewood London debuted 44 suites when the hotel debuted in 2013. This is a trend that will continue with our forthcoming openings.

ACCOMMODATION TRENDS

PRIVATE 'VACATION HOME RENTAL' TRENDS

Private accommodation renting is on an absolute growth tear. Back in 2010, only 8% of U.S. leisure travelers rented a private home, apartment or room while on vacation. In 2014, that figure jumped to 25%. No one can argue that Airbnb is at the heart of the recent swell in renting. The sharing economy pioneer built the business model, branded the technology that connected hosts and renters like never before – and helped bring private accommodation rentals into the mainstream. (Source: Hotels to Homes: Opening the Door to the Airbnb Traveler, Phocuswright, 2015)

Airbnb is just one of many online platforms making it easier for people to share space in their homes – or rent their suites and vacation properties on a short-term basis. However, Airbnb has been leading the growth in private accommodation rentals, and it has grown significantly since its launch in 2008. It now has 2,000,000 listings in 191 countries. HomeAway's family of sites (see below) represent 1.2 million paid listings of vacation rental homes in 190 countries.

1 SOURCE: AIRBNB AND THE IMPACT ON THE CANADIAN HOTEL INDUSTRY, 2016

Airbnb's model has been a game-changer in the online property rental platform marketplace. Property owners can list their properties on Airbnb at no charge; instead, the guest is the one who pays for the service at the time of booking. This has helped to enable the very rapid growth in the number of Airbnb listings over such a short period, and the large inventory is why many travellers visit the site when looking to access as many accommodation options as possible when making their travel decisions.

Private accommodation has undergone a remarkable transformation in the U.S. travel market over the past decade. Thanks in large part to services like HomeAway, Airbnb and leading online travel agencies such as Booking.com, the percentage of U.S. travelers who have rented a whole home or apartment has more than doubled within three years. (Source: Rentals Rising: The State of Private Accommodation in U.S. Travel, Phocuswright, 2015)

VHR's in the "Sharing Economy"

The industry, for which no single term has emerged, is considered part of the "sharing economy", which is described on Wikipedia as:

A sharing economy takes a variety of forms, often leveraging information technology to empower individuals, corporations, non-profits and government with information that enables distribution, sharing and reuse of excess capacity in goods and services. A common premise is that when information about goods is shared (typically via an online marketplace), the value of those goods may increase, for the business, for individuals, and for the community.

The industry has grown far beyond its original status within the "sharing economy." It is no longer just using "excess capacity" -- a spare bedroom or two, the home a family would otherwise leave empty while on vacation, or the second home that owners visit only a few times a year. Many units now listed on these hosting sites previously housed members of the workforce. They were once homes for families, but are now tourist accommodations. They were occupied by their owners or rented long term but are now investor owned and rented for the highest rates achievable as frequently as possible for maximum profits.

REASONS PEOPLE BOOK WITH AIRBNB IN CANADA

According to one Canadian study, the top reasons Canadian guests chose to use Airbnb for booking their accommodation was for location, value, home-like feel, and that they found one they loved that they couldn't pass up.

5 SHORT-TERM VACATION HOME RENTALS – IMPACTS ON WORKFORCE HOUSING IN BRECKENRIDGE, JUNE 2016

HOW PRIVATE VACATION HOMES DIFFER FROM TRADITIONAL ACCOMMODATION

When compared to traditional hotel accommodation, private accommodation rentals generally fall short on a number of criteria:

- Licencing for home-sharing and individual vacation rental often does not exist
- Most home-owner insurance policies likely don't cover home-sharing activities
- Accommodations are not ensured to meet minimum quality or safety standards
- Generally do not collect sales and lodging taxes
- Are not limiting rentals to locations within permitted zones
- Commercial property taxes paid by hotels and other commercial accommodation providers are considerably higher than the residential rates paid by those sharing their homes.

WHISTLER TRENDS

Most of the information contained in this section comes from Tourism Whistler and is presented as summary statements since the data is confidential.

COMMERCIAL ACCOMMODATION SECTOR PERFORMANCE

Whistler's commercial accommodation sector is currently experiencing stronger economic performance than in recent years: higher occupancy rates, higher average daily room rates (ADR), and a better return on investment for unit owners (Commercial accommodation data collected by Tourism Whistler is confidential).

- Paid occupancy continues to increase for both summer and winter seasons, and the number of days over 85% occupancy is increasing
- At 60-65% occupancy, properties are making a good ROI and are able to reinvest/renovate
- Visitor satisfaction is high for all TA types
- Spending in the visitor accommodation sector has grown (see below)

VISITOR ACCOMMODATION SPENDING

When the consumer spending is broken down by key sectors of the commercial sector, the research shows that:

- Commercial spending in 'Visitor Accommodations' has grown $83M to $320M (from $237M), an increase of 35% with an annual growth rate of 10.6%, as shown in Table 2 below.
- 50% of the commercial spending increase is from 'Visitor Accommodations'.
- 'Restaurant and pub' spending indicates an increase of $22M.

Excludes spending on non-commercial items such as most shelter, education, transportation, and healthcare categories.*

VISITOR ACCOMMODATION PREFERENCES

SUMMER

- While most visitors stay in hotels, condos, or rented houses, recent years have seen up to 1 in 10 visitors staying with friends or relatives.
- Campground visitors, although a small share of visitors, have also increased two points since 2011
- 2016 saw fewer day trip visitors, down eight points from 2011. The majority of this decrease was among destination visitors.
- Average length of stay has now risen for the second consecutive summer and is up an entire night from the 2010 season.
- Specific types of accommodation that have seen increasing lengths of stay are hotels, condos, and campgrounds.

WINTER

- The breakdown for type of accommodation has remained consistent with 'hotels/condos' making up the majority of accommodation type.
- Length of stay has remained consistent with no evident trends. When looking at only destination markets, length of stay has remained consistent with a slight dip in winter 2015/16 (which may be driven by an increase in day visitors during a strong snow year).
- There has been a rising trend of day trippers from the regional market over the past few winters. Again, this would be influenced by snow quality.

PARTY SIZE

SUMMER

- Overall party size has seen a small decrease, which has been even across all accommodation types.
- Number of kids per party has decreased for the third consecutive year, while the share of those who have kids has remained the same.
- The small decrease in party size is evident in both regional and destination visitors.
- The small decrease in party size is evident across all booking channels.
- VRBO books the largest party size while direct bookings have the smallest. This may be due to the fact that VRBO units are typically larger.

WINTER

- Party size has dipped slightly over the past three years, with the decrease coming entirely from regional visitors.
- VRBO has the largest party size, while OTA (online travel agency, e.g. Expedia, Hotwire) bookings have the smallest party size.

BOOKING CHANNEL TRENDS

SUMMER

- In summer 2016 VRBO bookings accounted for 14% of all paid accommodation bookings.
- VRBO popularity has increased for both regional and destination visitors. Markets with shorter stays may be less likely to use VRBO due to minimum night stays in many VRBO rentals.
- VRBO stay length decreased in summer 2016.

WINTER

- Winter VRBO bookings have remained flat at 15% for the two years we have collected the data.

VISITOR SATISFACTION & FRONT DESK SERVICE IN VACATION HOME RENTALS

Whistler visitor satisfaction with 'vacation home rental' accommodation was found to be consistent with other booking types across many different satisfaction metrics. Tourism Whistler's visitor surveys have also included questions about the existence of and guest satisfaction with front desk service.

Regarding the existence of front desk service, of those staying in paid accommodation it was found that:

- Roughly 60% have 24 hour on-site front desk service
- The remaining guests are spread fairly evenly between accommodation that offers the following:
- Limited front desk service
- Offsite front desk service
- No front desk service (most of these visitors are staying in a condo/chalet/house)

With respect to guest satisfaction with the front desk service, the survey information indicates that:

- Most visitors, in recent summer and winter seasons, were satisfied with their overall accommodation experience in Whistler
- Overall accommodation experience is consistently among the top 10 most satisfying aspects of a visitors' experience in Whistler
- Front desk service has been one of the most satisfying aspects in the accommodation sector
- When satisfaction levels are broken down by those with 24h onsite front desk service, and those that had no front desk service, the two groups did not show statistically significant differences in the overall satisfaction with their accommodation
- Visitors' satisfaction with the overall Whistler experience is very high, regardless of whether their accommodation offers front desk service

WHISTLER AIRBNB TRENDS AND PROFILES

Whistler Airbnb data is presented below because the Airbnb data was readily available, thanks to the company's willingness to collaborate and share information. It represents only a portion of the online short-term vacation home rentals occurring in Whistler. While there are many other online platforms used by Whistler property owners to rent their units (e.g., VRBO, HomeAway, Owner Direct, etc.), more and more vacation home owners and property management companies are using the Airbnb platform due to its ease of use and mobile-friendly application.

The number of Whistler guests booking through Airbnb increased exponentially in just four years, growing from 60 in 2011 to 35,500 in 2015. It should be noted that many of the professional property management companies market and book units through Airbnb's platform, so this growth is not only a reflection of the growth in rental by individuals. Further,

It is also important to note that of the approximately 800 active listings (according to 2016 data), nightly rental listings on Airbnb in residential zones (where nightly rentals are not permitted) represented just 67, according to a rough count done in winter 2016-17.

Hotel Market Disruptors are Top of Mind

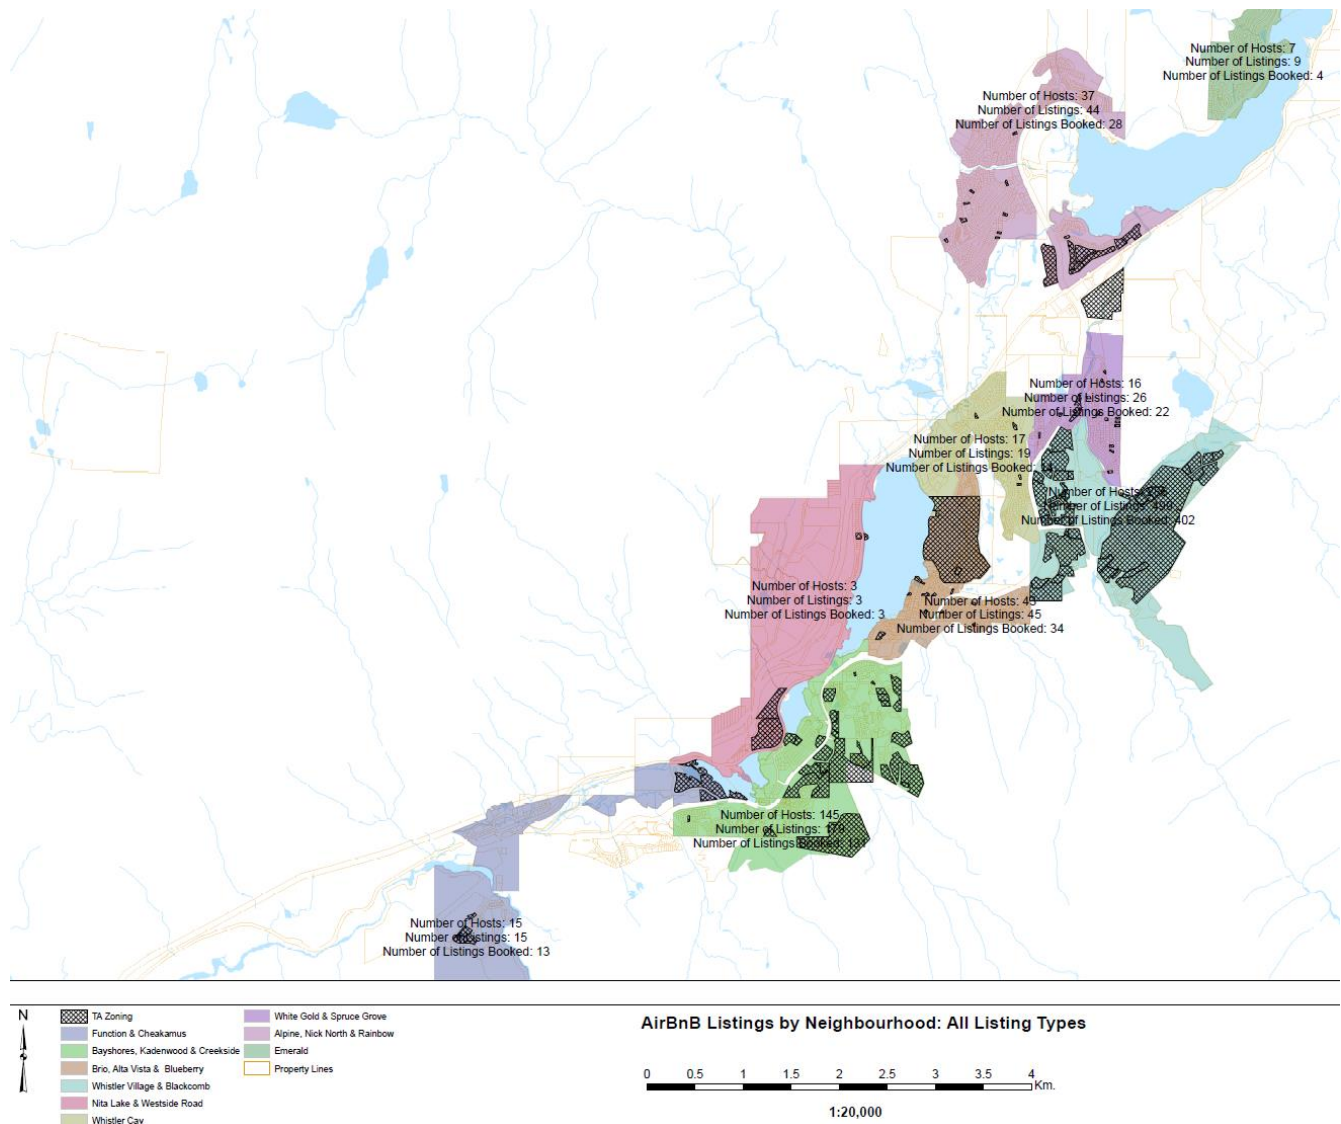

The popularity of AirBNB and other hotel-alternative services could begin to impact lodging demand in major markets globally. The conversation on these services as a threat to the traditional lodging industry will rise.

Industry disruptors are top of mind. Fresh off the previous decade-long battle with online travel agencies (OTAs), new innovations such as AirBNB are rapidly transforming the way travelers book their accommodations. While these innovations are providing some benefit to the consumer, it has yet to be determined what impact these alternative distribution channels will have on traditional hotel performance. Owners of assets in secondary and tertiary markets for the most part do not see this as a major issue. However, the fundamental challenge is that this channel is not currently monitored and regulated.

AIRBNB LISTINGS BY WHISTLER NEIGHBOURHOOD

The map below indicates the number of Airbnb hosts, listings and listings booked for groupings of Whistler neighbourhoods. The hatched areas indicate zones where nightly tourist accommodation is permitted. At this time, the data cannot indicate whether the Airbnb listings are within those permitted zones or not. As previously mentioned, there were only about 67 illegal Airbnb listings in residential zones according to a rough count done at one point during winter 2016-17.

Tourist Accommodation Review – Accommodation Inventory Database Overview

Purpose and Overview

The Tourist Accommodation (TA) database is intended to be an inventory of properties zoned to permit tourist accommodation, specifically properties with “Phase 1”, “Hotel Use Only” or “Phase 2” covenants (collectively called “rental pool covenants”). The database includes attributes for each property, such as BC Assessment information (e.g., assessment class and assessed value), zoning, property type (strata or non-strata) and the registration numbers of rental pool covenants. In total, the database comprises approximately 7,700 records each representing a titled property¹. The database also includes a summary page where individual titled properties are grouped and summarized by “accommodation property” and, if one exists, strata plan. For example, all strata units in the Westin are grouped under that name and strata plan.

Data Sources

The following were used as primary data sources for the TA database (i.e., they form the foundation of the database to which other data was “joined”):

1. An inventory of tourist accommodation properties obtained from Tourism Whistler.
2. Property data from the Resort Municipality of Whistler’s (RMOW’s) GIS and Tempest systems. This included zoning information, legal plan number, property type² and Property Identification (PID) numbers.

The following were used as secondary data sources for the TA database (i.e., this data was linked to the primary data noted above by a common field (usually the PID):

1. BC Assessment data compiled for assessment profiles (e.g., building type, use and land value).
2. Covenant information related to rental pool covenants including the covenant registration number and a hyperlink to a copy of the document.
3. Data recorded during the course of the TA review including property attributes (e.g., front desk and amenities), number of properties operating within a rental pool, services (e.g., 24 hour front desk staffing) and others.

The RMOW’s bed unit inventory was also used as a validation tool to ensure properties had not been omitted from the database. Unit totals in the TA database were compared to bed unit totals in the bed unit inventory. If the totals were different, staff reviewed RMOW GIS and Tempest systems, building plans and strata plans to determine if tourist accommodation units had been omitted from the TA database or if units that were not used for tourist accommodation (e.g., retail space) had inadvertently been included in the inventory.

¹ A titled property constitutes a property that can be bought and sold and can be either a strata property or non-strata property.

² This is either non-strata or strata, which was determined by the plan number prefix. Plan numbers containing the letters “r” or “s” are strata plans, and all others are non-strata plans.

Rental Pool Covenants

Identifying properties with rental pool covenants was one of the most important reasons for compiling the TA database. The Land Title and Survey Authority of British Columbia (LTSA) is the official repository of covenant information in British Columbia. Property/covenant information in the LTSA database can only be searched through a two-step process that first involves purchasing PDF copies of property titles and then purchasing the covenants registered on those titles. Conclusively determining which of the approximately 7,700 properties have rental pool covenants would require obtaining copies of all 7,700 titles, then obtaining copies of all covenants registered on those titles, and finally reviewing all the covenants to identify which ones are rental pool covenants and which titles they are registered on. Such a search was determined to be cost prohibitive³. Instead, a grouping principle and process of elimination was used. The grouping principle presumed that if an accommodation property was stratified (e.g., the Westin) and a covenant was found on one strata unit, that same covenant was likely registered on all strata units in the same strata plan (e.g., all strata units in the Westin would be subject to the same rental pool covenant). There was no need to apply this principle to non-strata properties (e.g., the Fairmont), as these properties have only a single title. Once it was determined that an accommodation property had a rental pool covenant, it was excluded from further searches. The search method was a three step process of elimination. Each step is outlined below.

Step One: Paper Record Search

The RMOW has hard-copy catalogues of some covenants which include information about the covenants' purpose (e.g., rental pool), and the properties to which they apply. These catalogues were reviewed to determine if an accommodation property was noted as having a rental pool covenant. If the catalogues indicated an accommodation property had a rental pool covenant, all titled properties that made up the accommodation property were deemed to have the covenant registered on the title. The covenant was also reviewed to confirm if it was in fact a rental pool covenant. In this step, rental pool covenants were found for approximately 24% of accommodation properties and these properties were excluded from steps two and three.

Step Two: Title and Covenant Scan

In step two, a sample of titles from each accommodation property was compiled and scanned using a text recognition process. The text recognition process created a list of all covenants registered in favour of the RMOW (approximately 600 covenants in total). These covenants were then scanned using a separate text recognition process to identify covenants with typical rental pool covenant terms (e.g., "rental pool"). Covenants in the resulting list were reviewed by a planner to confirm they were rental pool covenants. A sub-list of these covenants was compiled and the titles noted above were scanned again, this time to determine which titles had one or more of the identified rental pool covenants registered on the title. When a title was found to have a rental pool covenant, all titled properties in the corresponding accommodation property were determined to have that covenant and excluded from step three. In this step, rental pool covenants were found for approximately 28% of accommodation properties.

³ Copies of titles cost $11/title and copies of covenants cost $25-90/covenant. Typically a title has 2-6 covenants registered in favour of the RMOW. Purchasing titles for all 7,700 properties in the TA database would cost approximately $85,000 and the cost of obtaining copies of covenants registered on those titles would range from $400,000-1,000,000, for a total cost of approximately $485,000-$1,085,000.

Step Three: Manual Review

As a final step, the titles of properties from step two where rental pool covenants were not found were run through a “manual” version of step two. Each title was reviewed by a planner to identify covenants registered in favour of the RMOW. The planner then reviewed each of those covenants to identify which were rental pool covenants. As with step two, when titles had a rental pool covenant, all properties from the corresponding accommodation property were assigned the same covenant. However, no rental pool covenants were identified in step three (this was not unexpected as step three was technically redundant). Approximately 48% of accommodation properties were searched in step three (meaning they were also searched in steps one and two) and were determined not to have a rental pool covenant.

Appendix D

Zones and Land Use Contract Areas with Tourist Accommodation Permitted Uses

The following zone designations and land use contracts permit a specified tourist accommodation use that allows temporary lodging and temporary accommodation for paying guests. The specific use permitted and associated regulations are specified in the Resort Municipality of Whistler Zoning and Parking Bylaw 303, 2015 or the applicable land use contract registered on the title of the property. This list is subject to change as a result of zoning amendment applications.

Guiding Principles

- Protect the visitor accommodation bed base
- Maintain “warm beds”
- Support the visitor experience and service quality levels
- Provide a range of accommodation types and arrangements to meet diverse visitor demographics and needs
- Support efficient property management, operations, maintenance and reinvestment in accommodation offering
- Provide clarity and certainty regarding TA use requirements and rental arrangements
- Remove RMOW from involvement in TA property management issues
- Prohibit nightly rentals in residential areas (i.e., properties not zoned for tourist accommodation use)

General Policies

- Recognize, maintain and clarify distinctions within TA inventory for accommodation use requirements, based on specified policy objectives, guiding principles, zoning, rental pool and development covenants, and development approvals.
- Clarify RMOW position on various rental pool covenant provisions registered in favour of the municipality
 - Secure provisions essential to maximizing availability and use of Whistler's core accommodation base for visitor use
 - Support existing owner use provisions
 - Do not exercise provisions requiring municipal approval of particular rental pool or rental agreement
- Recognize and specify policies for four general categories of accommodations and identify specific properties within each
 - Hotel and Phase 2 Rental Pool Accommodations
 - Tourist Accommodation Dwellings with Phase 1 Rental Pool
 - Tourist Accommodation Dwellings with No Rental Pool
 - Residential Use Only Accommodations

Hotel and Phase 2 Rental Pool Accommodations Overview

- Critical to Whistler's TA inventory
 - Covenant: maximize the number of persons able to visit and stay in the Resort Municipality of Whistler
 - Examples: Westin, Pan Pacific, Aava, Coast, Four Seasons Hotel
 - Critical to maintaining warm beds
 - Core accommodation base
 - Conferences, large corporate groups, Asian market
 - High levels of amenities and services
 - Unified and coordinated management of strata lots being made available for rental to public under common rental pool arrangement is essential

Hotel and Phase 2 Rental Pool Accommodations Policies

- Recognize properties in category as core accommodation base for visitor use; maximize number of persons able to visit and stay
- Secure essential use, management and operating aspects utilizing zoning and business regulations to support covenant provisions
- Achieve equitable approach and consistency in applicable provisions; seek to mirror existing provisions and typical operations

Hotel and Phase 2 Rental Pool Accommodations Policies

- Amend and apply zoning and business regulations
 - Reinforce requirement for all accommodation units within these properties to be managed and operated as a single, integrated entity
 - All owner use and visitor use booked through a single, integrated rental pool
 - All units made available for rental to public at all times except booked permitted owner use
 - Maintain existing covenanted owner use provisions (typically permit booked owner use up to 56 days per calendar year; prioritize visitor use over additional booked owner use)
 - Provide for existing time share arrangements
 - Maintain existing zoning requirements for auxiliary lobby, restaurant, assembly, entertainment and retail uses
 - Secure essential facilities and services
 - Require single business license per property
 - Do not issue or permit licensing for units on individual basis
 - Require resolution by $\frac{3}{4}$ vote authorizing hotel business license application
 - Support zoning and business regulations through municipal ticketing and available adjudication processes

TA Dwellings with Phase 1 Rental Pool Overview

- Maximize use by owners and visitors
 - Covenant: maximize the number of people occupying the accommodation
 - Examples: Aspens, Glacier Lodge, Marketplace Lodge, Town Plaza, Legends, Montebello, Northern Lights
 - Less restrictive owner use limitations under zoning and covenants – make available to the public when not in use by owner
 - Evolving property management models and multiple rental arrangements
 - Technology and on-line booking platforms are making it easier for owners to rent individually (AirBnB and VRBO)
 - Innovative models being developed by stratas to maintain visitor experience – front desk, emergency contact, key systems

TA Dwellings with Phase 1 Rental Pool Policies

- Clarify RMOW position on use and covenant provisions
 - Seek to maximize occupancy of these accommodations by owners and visitors
 - Maintain existing covenanted owner use provisions and rental booking requirements for each property. Do not seek to reinforce through zoning or business regulations
 - Allow for multiple rental booking and unit management arrangements; individual unit owners may determine booking and management arrangements for their unit on individual basis, subject to strata bylaws and owner agreements
 - Encourage coordinated provision of visitor services. Operating models for each property are determined at the strata level
 - Work with resort partners and stakeholders to advance effective models
 - Require individual accommodation unit owners to obtain business license for any tourist accommodation rental and marketing activities
 - If conducted by licensed independent property management company, then individual license not required
 - Monitor utilization of the units in this category on on-going basis, to maximize use and maintain covenant use objectives

Tourist Accommodation Dwellings with no Rental Pool Overview

- Provides diversity in TA offering
 - Includes RTA dwellings that allow both residential and tourist accommodation use
 - Larger accommodation units attractive for extended stays, families and larger groups
 - Also, RV parks, camping, hostels, B&B and pensions

Tourist Accommodation Dwellings with no Rental Pool Policies

- Maintain existing zoning and permitted uses
 - Help promote attractiveness of units for extended stays, larger groups and family business
 - Encourage full utilization of these units for residential use and visitor rentals as zoning permits
 - Require individual accommodation unit owners to obtain a business license for any tourist accommodation rental and marketing activities
 - If activity is conducted by licensed independent property management company then individual license not required

Residential Use Only Accommodations

- Illegal nightly rentals and visitor rentals to paying guests significant issue of concern to resort community
 - Undermines residential character of neighbourhoods
 - Undermines properly zoned tourist accommodation inventory
 - Impacts availability of housing supply for residential purposes
 - Growing concern with multiple rental booking platforms and channels for marketing, and lucrative illegal rentals

Residential Use Only Accommodations

- Reinforce regulations and enforcement of illegal TA activities
 - Maintain/reinforce existing zoning restrictions and business regulations to prohibit any tourist accommodation or temporary lodging use of properties that are restricted to residential use
 - Seek to maximize utilization of residential properties to support housing needs
 - Work with property management companies and rental booking platforms and service providers to support zoning and business regulations
 - Enforce against illegal rentals using available tools and legislative powers
 - Amend business regulations to prohibit marketing of illegal rentals and adopt available adjudication processes

Council,

I saw the notice for public comment and will not be able to attend

(https://www.whistler.ca/sites/default/files/2017/May/events/pdf/23816/ph_notice.pdf). I own a property in Glacier's Reach and am concerned with some of the proposed changes. Below are my comments for the regulation changes.

1. I purchased a Phase 1 short term rental property for a multitude of reasons, but mainly because it gave me the highest flexibility in terms of using it myself with my family as well as renting it out. The 75% resolution clause to re-license a strata and force upon them a management company that will convert the strata to a hotel business with front desk personnel, housekeeping and maintenance service brings me great concern. (On a side note, I've managed my property professionally with professional cleaning and maintenance service myself for the past 5 years without issue. I do not claim the property to be my primary residence and subsequently pay full property taxes. I pay commercial Tourism Whistler fees and claim the rental income on my tax returns.) I take great pride in my management skills and providing my clients with a great accommodation as well as making cherished memories with my family. If there was such a takeover at Glacier's Reach, my family and I would lose the management abilities that made a Phase 1 property so attractive in the first place. My suggestion is to go to 100% resolution, 75% is simply not enough. Inactive owners will see this as a welcomed initiative to be more hands off, but owners like myself who actually care and do their best with what they have will be frustrated. The owners who want a property management company if they so choose, at a great expense of losing usage privileges as well as paying outrageous management costs (35% of revenue is standard), but that should be their choice alone. If such a resolution was passed at any strata, it would be like changing the zoning from Phase 1 to Phase 2.
2. I'm all for making sure that rental properties are properly zoned as well as safe and secure for guests. Obtaining a short term rental license (or whatever it will be called) isn't of grave concern to me as long as the process isn't cumbersome or costly. I already have a business license as short term rentals over $30K/year are not GST exempt, so to me that business license should suffice. If it is more than a simple business license, I don't think that it should be more than filling out some paperwork and submitting this to the municipality since the address will determine the zoning anyway.

I hope my comments are clear, if not please feel free to reach out to me.

Regards,

Kiewit

Subject: new bylaw

It has been brought to my attention that there is a new bylaw proposed - at least I hope it is proposed and not in force yet, requiring rental properties to carry a business license.

We have a home which is legally zoned for rentals and we rent it out frequently but also use it ourselves. We would rather not however costs in Whistler are so prohibitive we have no choice. We already pay massive property taxes as well as tourism fees.

To add to our financial burden requiring a business license when we are already paying fees to Whistler Tourism for what is essentially permission to operate this business is unfair, punitive and basically a double up tax.

Although we don't have a property manager in our complex and manage the rentals ourselves, I strongly object to people being forced to use a property manager. These management firms amount to highway robbery and take such a huge percentage of income for doing basically nothing. Our unit was managed by a property management firm before we bought it and the place was in bad shape. We had to do a lot of work to bring it back to a decent rental standard. Property managers don't care. They only want money. Owners care about their homes.

It really makes me wonder who you are protecting and supporting with these new bylaws. Certainly not the owners.

I hope other people are as upset about this as we are because this is not going to help us out at all and in fact, if some of these changes are implemented, some of us might be compelled to sell.

We are the owners of a suite in the Marquise since 2003.

We heard there will be a new rental bylaw.

We rent via Allura direct. My wife always takes care of the place and does all the arrangements by herself including the arranging and cleaning etc. Please let us know if this will effect us and how/ what we need to do. I'm in China and cannot attend the meeting.

Thanks for your info.

Regards,

Wolfgang

Subject: New By-law proposal discussion 6th June 2017

Re the Following Proposal

"In general terms, the purpose of the proposed Bylaw is to establish license requirements and regulations for various types of tourist accommodation businesses and business activities; prevent unlicensed and unlawful tourist accommodation business activities, including marketing and providing accommodation or lodging to paying guests for properties without proper zoning; and to establish operating and services requirements for properties defined to be hotel businesses.

For properties that are defined in the Bylaw to be a hotel, all units are to be operated under a single hotel business license. Individual unit owners will not be eligible to obtain a business license to conduct a tourist accommodation business outside of the single hotel business license. For strata titled properties that are subject to the Strata Property Act, a 3/4 resolution of the strata corporation authorizing the licence application is required. Hotel businesses are also required to have the specified front desk, housekeeping and building maintenance service.

A copy of the proposed Bylaw and relevant background documentation may be inspected at the Reception Desk of Municipal Hall at 4325 Blackcomb Way, Whistler, BC, during regular office hours of 8:00 a.m. to 4:30p.m., from Monday to Friday (statutory holidays excluded)."

I would like to register a strong objection to the proposal.

This is a sledgehammer to crack a nut and seeks to punish law abiding strata owners because of the abuse of the zoning regulations by a few people. I own a property in Glacier Lodge and bought it, in part, as it is zoned for nightly rental and the rental is part of the deal. I self manage the property, within the terms of the strata by-laws and local zoning rules. Part of my calculation in purchasing the property was the potential income from renting and the proposal looks to me like a restriction of trade and an admission by the RMOW that it has failed in enforcing the existing zoning restrictions and is therefore "passing the buck" to the law abiding property owners.

There is no comment as to the cost of the proposed licence or the level of bureaucracy related to the renewal of the licence. The alternative is to use some sort of manager for the property these managers typically take c30% of gross rent rendering the economics of renting extremely unattractive for the small / individual owner.

This proposal looks like the RMOW picking on the little guy as it has failed to fulfil its duty to enforce the existing zoning regulations. If someone is willing to ignore the zoning regulations they will also ignore the licensing regulations and the proposal will achieve nothing other than laying unnecessary bureaucracy and costs on the law-abiding owner pushing up rates and thereby making cheating the system even more attractive for the miscreants.

I have been on both side of the rental deal both renting property in Whistler and renting out property and the small / private owner is the backbone of fulfilling accommodation demand in Whistler. The proposals will damage the rental market, adversely affect capital values and not achieve the desired aim.

The RMOW would be better off finding a way to enforce the existing regulations (for the benefit of all law abiding owners and the RMOW in general) rather than targeting the good and letting the bad get away with it. This proposal is odious.

Subject: alluraDirect- VRBO Bylaw Changes

To the Mayor and Council (and CCed Tory and Heather),

With the newly endorsed bylaw regulation changes around short-term rental properties, I am getting inundated with questions from hundreds of concerned and vocal alluraDirect property owners in Whistler that will be affected by the proposed changes. I don't think the intent of this bylaw change is to hinder the legal nightly-rentals, but the notice was vague enough to cause concern. I agree on the business license proposal.

Can you provide me with more information regarding how this may affect the 300+ legally zoned rental properties we have listed and what changes may happen based on these regulation changes?

As you know, alluraDirect was recently purchased from Sue Chappel in April by myself and my partner Taivo Evard, we understand and agree that illegal nightly rentals in Whistler need to be addressed ASAP. alluraDirect's goal is to remain as the largest legitimate source of legally zoned VRBO rentals in Whistler and continue to contribute back into the community where we operate, unlike the global companies that are pulling resources away.

As mentioned to Tory and Heather in our past meeting, both Taivo and myself are interested in ensuring we remain the legitimate source of VRBO rentals in Whistler which only advertise properties that abide by the city regulations. Unfortunately the airBNB problem will most likely persist no matter what changes are made to the bylaws and enforcement procedures, the real answer is to collaborate towards a local solution that will benefit both the legally zoned Phase 1 and Phase 2 membership base and the Whistler community.

Our company has been operating for almost 20 years in Whistler, both Taivo and I also have a combined 15 years in the short-term vacation rental space here at allura.... we have ideas for possible solutions and are open any time for discussion around this topic as it is very important.

Please contact me any time by phone or email. I am also up in Whistler on Monday and Tuesday next week if you would like to meet.

Subject: Concern Over Change in Nightly Rental Policy

Dear Mayor and Council,

I was recently made aware of the proposed council policy changes regarding Phase 2 properties. Before explaining my concerns I want to say that for the most part I think you've done an excellent job in Whistler. I've seen Whistler grow over the last 20 years and somehow it hasn't lost what made it special. I think RMOW has done a great job in offering a wonderful guest experience. The town is more beautiful than ever and full of life almost year round. I live in Vancouver, but have always loved Whistler. I love the mountains, the lakes, the people, the biking, the skiing. Like many of you I come to Whistler for its sheer beauty. It's from my love of Whistler that I made investing in Whistler a priority. A few years ago I purchased a small condo in the Alpenglow building. Since then we've offered our studio for nightly rentals, hosting over 500 guests, maintaining Super Host status with 87% of reviews 5 out of 5 stars. Our focus has been to offer the best possible Whistler experience for a reasonable price. As a bonus my wife and I come to Whistler as often as possible to use our little home away from home, enjoy the mountains and the excellent restaurants.

The policy change that was proposed at the May 23rd council meeting has a significant impact for many folks that are operating short term nightly rentals without the use of a single rental pool. Some Phase 2 building strata bylaws do not require the use of a single rental pool. Since I can't see any benefit of this policy to Whistler, to visitors or to property owners I can only assume this policy is an Orwellian, protectionist reaction from RMOW prompted by Rental Pool Managers operating in Whistler. Rental Pool Managers that have been riding a gravy train for years by ripping off the Phase 2 property owners. I hope I'm wrong. One only has to look at the relative values of units and incomes received by owners between two similar buildings; one that is managed by a single Rental Pool and one that isn't. Any self managed property in Whistler is worth more than double per square foot than any Rental Pool managed property. How can RMOW endorse this blatant lack of value for property owners? Where is that value going, how can there be such a gap for what should be a very similar property?

The reason for the value gap is that rental pool managers like Resort Quest (owned by Wyndham) skim a large percentage of the rental revenue leaving the owners with barely enough income to cover their monthly expenses. Rental Pools like Resort Quest / Wyndham are multi billion dollar international companies that take from the individual property owners, and worst still offer a marginal guest experience.

I'd like to walk through the Guiding Principles of the Phase 2 covenant as written out in the "Tourist Accommodation Properties Zoning and Covenant Use Provisions". This is to demonstrate that offering property owners a choice of how to provide nightly rentals is not in contradiction of the intent of the Phase 2 covenant.

Protect the visitor accommodation bed base.

- Rentals through avenues such as Airbnb are not negatively affecting the visitor accommodation base. If anything private short term rentals are increasing the visitor accommodation base.

Maintain 'warm beds'

- See above. Before online services like VRBO, Airbnb, Craigslist, Booking.com an individual owner couldn't suitably market their property. However in today's day and age an individual property owner can easily match or exceed occupancy rates of large rental pool managers

Support the visitor experience and service quality levels.

- Having taken possession of a Resort Quest unit that was used for short term rentals I can say with certainty that the rental pool managers in Whistler don't have the visitor experience or quality in mind. The comforter and carpets were 20 years old and disgusting. Rental Pool Managers like Resort Quest consistently receive poor ratings. One only has to look at the plethora of Airbnb hosts operating in Whistler with reams of glowing reviews. We charge less, offer a beautiful renovated space, and have higher occupancy than most of the rental pool managers. We love Whistler and want to share Whistler with visitors. We have countless guests thanking us for making their stay.
- I can understand requiring a consistent feel throughout a hotel like the Hilton or the Westin etc. These buildings have management contracts in place that all owners sign. Other buildings like the Cascade Lodge etc aren't. Hotels in aesthetic or bookings. These buildings advertise on Airbnb, VRBO, Booking.com etc. There is no consistent marketing image for these buildings. Whether these buildings have a common front desk service with property owners having a choice in self managed vs. rental pool makes little difference.

Provide a range of accommodation types and arrangements to meet diverse visitor demographics and needs.

- Allowing folks to use Phase 2 properties for private short term nightly rentals doesn't change the accommodation type. If anything removing the requirement for mandatory use of a single Rental Pool may increase the diversity available for visitor demographics and needs. The increasingly younger demographic identify with the sharing community. I can't see how a rental diversity from hotels like the Hilton and Westin to lodges offering private nightly rentals is a bad thing. This only reinforces the guiding principles of the Phase 2 covenant

Support efficient property management operations, maintenance and reinvestment in accommodation offering.

- I am more efficient at managing my property as demonstrated by higher guest satisfaction, and lower nightly pricing. We invested more into our properties in the first 2 months than the previous Rental Pool Managers invested in the prior 18 years

Provide clarity and certainty regarding tourist accommodation use requirements and rental arrangements.

- To what end? Who is to benefit from this? It certainly isn't the property owners, and it isn't the visitors. Is this a protectionist move? Why is the municipality interfering with how property owners rent out their units? If the intent of the Phase 2 covenant is to ensure "Warm beds" to visitors allowing folks to offer private nightly rentals is not in contradiction to that end

Remove RMOW from involvement in tourist accommodation property management issues.

- Completely agree that RMOW should not be involved in accommodation property management issues. Property owners should have the choice to use the property management services they choose. In today's day and age folks can market their units without needing bloated Rental Pool Management services. If the Rental Pools offered good services, for a reasonable price, this conversation wouldn't be happening. Many owners love having rental pools to manage their units, that's great. At least allow open competition in the rental pools to prevent the complacent monopolies we have now

Prohibit nightly rentals in residential areas

- I can understand this point if the purpose is to maintain properties for residents to own / rent for a reasonable sum of money.

Sincerely
Tim Coleman

Subject: Concerns About Business Licence Requirements

Hello,

I am writing to you regarding the proposed business licence requirements being proposed by the City of Whistler. We live in Seattle. My husband and I have owned and managed a short-term rental successfully, legally, and ethically for 6 years in Whistler. We feel that this new change is indeed a knee jerk reaction to those folks who do not manage their rentals properly. And, you would bring in more fees. We already pay a lot to Tourism Whistler annually to run our business. Owners like us bring in tourism dollars to the city by showcasing what wonderful things Whistler has to offer. We purchased a townhouse at Stoney Creek at Northstar that is a zoned, strata controlled complex. The prior owners had a property manager run their vacation rental program.

Your public notice cites that illegal rentals are indeed in the minority. Can't you police Air BnB and other sites for those addresses that are not legally zoned? That is what our condo in Seattle does for those who illegally post on those sites. It is illegal for us to rent our property in the short term here. Also, you say that I can read your new proposal at your offices. I am in Seattle. Why can't you post it electronically? Also, what will the licence fees be? I feel we are in the dark about a lot of details.

If this goes into effect, we may indeed consider selling our property and no longer come to Whistler for personal use or for investment opportunities.
