The image shows the front porch of a house with dark grey shingle siding and a dark wooden ceiling. A wooden support post is visible on the left side of the porch. A red arrow points from a label to this post. The porch has a dark wooden railing with square cutouts. On the porch, there are two large orange pumpkins, a colorful striped rug, and a pair of boots. A window with a white frame is visible on the right side of the porch. A silver mailbox is mounted on the wall to the right of the window. The background shows a dense forest of evergreen trees.
